4 Killed in Auto Race 50 WERE BURNED TO DEATH IN BIG FIRE THAT DESTROYED LOS ANGELES "TIMES" PLANT

Explosion Caused Disastrous Fire—Fifty Men Penned in Third Floor—Crowd Saw Men Fall From Windows Into the Flames—“Times-Democrat” Building at New Orleans, Also Destroyed by Fire—Five Hundred Thousand Dollar Blaze in Cicago.

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 30.—The building occupied by the Times Publishing Co. was destroyed by fire and there is a heavy death list. It is estimated as high as fifty.

The fire was preceded by an explosion and immediately the building was enveloped in flames. The old part is of three floors and within a few seconds from the time of the explosion the entire building was a fiery furnace.

The crowds that gathered early today saw many men fall from the windows into the flames. Others leaped and were injured. The editorial rooms were on the third floor, and it is believed the greater part of the men on this floor escaped death.

Thos. P. Smith, an “ad” compositor, working on the second floor when the explosion occurred, gives the following version.

“There were at least fifty men at work on my floor. I believe that half of this number may not have escaped. I, with others, rushed to the street immediately and then saw the whole building in flames.”

The entire building was in ruins at 1.45, and but two walls were standing. The fire department now has the situation well in hand and the flames will probably not spread further.

In addition to the complete plant of the Times, the building contained the large jobbing and commercial plant of the American Engraving company. The property loss is estimated at $500,000.

The death list is now placed at between fifteen and twenty. No bodies have yet been recovered, however.

The building occupied by the Times Mirror Publishing Company is of brick, three stories in height, and back of this was a brick annex of two stories and a basement. The editorial department of the Times was on the third floor of the main building and the business on the ground floor. The annex contained the presses, linotypes and job plant, and the “Times”

Why Armstrong Opposes Bouillon

A CHANGE IN C. N. R. PLANS.

Winnipeg, Sept. 30.—It has been learned that the Canadian Northern line now in course of construction northwesterly from North Battleford, will be diverted to the west to connect with the Yellow Head Pass line at St. Albert, north of Edmonton, and will form a section of the main transcontinental line. The road will open up a magnificent farming country between North Battleford and St. Albert.

Why Ald. Armstrong is Opposing Mr. Bouillon

Stated That Ratepayers on Namayo Avenue Are Disgruntled Over Delay in Paving and Have Brought Influence to Bear on the Alderman.

The Capital letter this morning that the opposition to Ald. Armstrong's plan to the council when he accepted office to Commissioner Bouillon, is due to the fact that influence has been brought to bear on him by ratepayers of Namayo avenue, who are annoyed over the delay in the payment of that avenue.

For some time past there has been considerable grumbling by ratepayers of Namayo avenue who claim that Mr. Bouillon is the man responsible for the delay. Some people who believe the utilities commissioner contend that Ald. Armstrong is too fair-minded to be influenced in such a manner and express the fear that the commission form of the municipal government is in vogue in this city cannot last if the aldermen are to be influenced by this kind and that kind and the rumors on the street. The mayor and council should use their own initiative, and sit on their hands like a judge and jury without consideration of outside comment. Mr. Bouillon's sympathizers maintain that the actions for which he has been criticized,

HAD FOOT CRUSHED.

With his foot badly crushed, Edward Hill was removed from the tracks near the C.N.R. depot late last night, to the Misericordia Hospital. Hill in some way got his foot caught under a car that was being shunted and had it badly crushed. This morning he is still in the hospital and is doing well.

30,000,000 PEOPLE IN NEXT 25 YEARS

That is the Estimate Placed On Canada's Future Population by English Journalist.

MR. FRANCIS DEVERELL Visiting Here, Is Engaged in Laudable Scheme to Promote English Emigration.

“In twenty-five years Canada will have a population of 30,000,000,” said Francis Deverell, a prominent English journalist, to the Capital this morning. “It is easily grasped when you consider that at the rate of 50,000 immigrants per year, the total in twenty-five years would be 12,500,000, while besides that there is the present population, and the natural increase.”

Mr. Deverell is the chairman of the British Empire Agency which exists for the furtherance of immigration within the empire of men with capital, and to protect their interests on their arrival from unscrupulous persons. It also assists in the diverting of British immigrants from the United States.

“Among them under the Union and Key,” he said, “the agency has already sent out to Canada, and Australia hundreds of men with capital and hopes to double the number next year. These immigrants bring in an aggregate with them hundreds of thousands of dollars.”

Mr. Deverell is the representative of the Empire Gazette, an Imperial illustrated magazine devoted to the affairs of the overseas states, and the Naval and Military Emigration League, which has for its objects the advising of ex-service men on immigration, the finding of employment for ex-service men in the overseas dominions, the advancing, when necessary, the immigration expenses of carefully selected ex-service men, and the protection of their interests on their arrival in their new homes.

The league has for its patron, H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, and is presided over by Lord Roberts, while Major-General Sir Ronald Leckie, who was in Edmonton a short time ago, is chairman. The organization, through Mr. Deverell is in touch with the Dominion government for the supplying of gunners and men for the permanent Canadian service, and has placed men with the garrison at Quebec. The league endeavors to place well selected men in civil employment.

“There is not enough done for really deserving old soldiers, and they can be employed profitably as bank messengers, caretakers, blacksmiths, policemen, and in many other posts where responsible and intelligent men are required.”

It is desired, and Mr. Deverell is endeavoring to have committees of prominent men formed all over the country, including Edmonton, to work in the interests of the league.

“I have been impressed by the large number of Britishers in this country who are doing well,” said Mr. Deverell, “and I have noted no signs whatever of any discrimination against Englishmen. It is very unusual to judge a nation by its worst samples.”

“In all parts of Canada I have noticed a strong desire for closer trade relations with the mother country, but some short-sighted and selfish farmers who wish to import their agricultural implements free, but want to protect their own products by a tariff of their own products. They seem to be a source of endless amusement to capable politicians throughout the country. Preferential trade within the empire should surely be the best thing for both the farming and manufacturing interests of Canada, which country would benefit more than any other part of the empire. Tariff reform is gaining adherents every day in England and it is just a matter of time before protection is adopted.”

MR. PETERS DOESN'T SEE WHY C.P.R. NEEDS UNION STATION

In reply to the letter of the city commissioners to the Grand Trunk Pacific in connection with the proposal to establish a Union Station at the three railroads, the company through E. J. Chamberlain, announces that they would have no objection to an arrangement of that kind. In answer to a similar letter, however, F. W. Peters, of the C.P.R., states that the matter has not been considered by the management.

“It would not appear, however,” he goes on to say, “any advantage to the company to obtain use of the terminals of other railways converging in Edmonton, as we have a very convenient location for passenger facilities in the property we purchased for that purpose.”

No reply has yet been received from the Canadian Northern, but as Mr. Chamberlain stated, the G.T.P. and the C.N.R. entered into a tentative agreement for joint passenger terminals in this city.

WANT CALGARY TO HELP IN GETTING FASTER FREIGHT

The city commissioners have requested the co-operation of the Calgary board of trade in obtaining a quicker freight service between the southern city and Edmonton, pointing out the fact that this city obtains much of its supplies from Calgary, when they could obtain them cheaper from Winnipeg. They stated that unless better transportation facilities were obtained over the C. & E. they would be forced to place their patronage in the east. The commissioners added that before long there will be a reverse in the trade relations between Edmonton and Calgary. Edmonton will then be the distributing centre and Calgary will have to send up their supplies, so that better transportation facilities would be of mutual advantage, while it would enable Calgary to retain its present trade.

A copy of the letter was sent to the C.P.R., and another to the local board of trade, asking their co-operation in obtaining the better service.

Inspector Duncan started an investigation, and found that Goldsmith was carrying on a mail order business. Hundreds of letters have been received and in some cases the amounts have been large, while in others they are $10 and $25. The police intend to bring witnesses from Nova Scotia to appear against him. Other charges are likely to follow. Some of the letters received are from Philadelphia, Atlantic City, Oregon, Manitoba, Kamloops and many other cities east and west.

HOLDEN FAIRAS A GREAT SUCCESS

First Annual Fair Held at Holden Yesterday Good Crowd Was Ent.

LIST OF PRIZEWINNERS Display of Animals Was Light But Those Exhibited Were of High Quality

Holden Sept. 30.—Yesterday's standpoint the first annual fair at Holden yesterday may be said to be a success. A good crowd of attendance, over 800 viewing the exhibits and taking part in the fair, the success it was. A play of the case with the first fair exhibits of the stock was light, but animals were present were of high quality, and this compensated somewhat for the lack in numbers. Horse shows, the agricultural classes pending, while the cattle were mostly by Short-horns and Herefords, sheep and swine there were not the poultry exhibit was fair.

The main attraction of the display of agricultural and animal products, was the work and the stall in Stewart & Dribble's mill warehouse, in the absence of other buildings, which have not as yet been constructed on the land bought by the society to be used in the future as a ground. The vegetables and grain sold as the exhibits of bread, butter and wool, both in quantity and quality, and are of special interest.

ROUNDING UP LAST OF DESPERATE GANG

Man Arrested Implicated in Outrage When Non-Union Man's Ear Was Cut Off.

Winnipeg, Sept. 30.—Michael Ryan, alias Reilly, is under arrest today following a search of three months by the police officials to round up the gang of Union Lake, some of whom have been arrested. Ryan, a non-union lake stevedore, was arrested in a Buffalo saloon, Fraser's left ear was cut off by the gang and enclosed in a threatening letter to President Coublay of the Pittsburgh Steamship company of Cleveland. Three of Ryan's companions were arrested in New York. The package containing Fraser's ear was sent through the mails to the president of the steamship line, who in turn placed him with the postoffice authorities.

LANDED HERE WITH 35 CENTS

How did John Formanski and his family get through the port of entry is the question the immigration hall officials are asking themselves. When questioned last night as to finances, he had 35 cents on his person, 25 of which was spent on milk. As $25 is required at Quebec where the immigrants land it seems as though something were amiss.

Meanwhile he will probably become a charge on the government which the new immigration regulations were expressly designed to prevent.

WrestlingST. GEORGE'S AND NORWOOD DRAW

Final Game for Charity Shield Resulted in a Score of One Goal All

The final game of the Charity Shield took place at Diamond Park yesterday afternoon, between St. Georges and Norwood, resulting in a draw, the score being 1-1. Some excellent football was exhibited and the small crowd of spectators had many opportunities to enthrall. Parker scored for St. Georges in the first half after 17 minutes play, while Forrest sent in the Norwood score in the second half. Though both teams tried strenuously to break the tie they were unsuccessful and the game will be replayed. Mr. T. C. Atkinson refereed the game in his usual capable manner, while D. Wright and H. Fidler were linesmen.

The teams were:

St. Georges (1)—Parker, Chapman, Parselle, Francis, Ruff, Crews, Galico, Parker, Wilson, Lloyd and Tompkins.

Norwood (1)—J. McSparran, McKinnon, Spencer, Nichols, Sinclair, Adam, Pendlebury, McSparran, Colville, Jeph, Forrest.

HEAR THE BIRDIES SING

Edmonton and Calgary have both decided to win the series and to win it at any price. Edmonton's motive has been quite apparent for some time past, the frame-up with Lethbridge being positive proof on that head. Calgary put itself in a bad light by refusing to play on a field which two umpires declared was fit enough for a game. Altogether the result of the season's work gives one little to crow about, and the blame rests upon two or three men who are too small for their jobs.—Moose Jaw News.

AFTER STREET'S RECORD

Sam Crawford says he will go, the catchers who have held a ball thrown from the top of the Washington monument several better. The big fellow intends to attempt to catch a ball with an ordinary fielder's glove instead of the big mitt used by backstops. He has not decided when he will make the attempt, but will apply for the necessary permission at once.

TIGERS DISCOVER GOLD MINE

Investment Made Following 1907 Series Nets $200 a Share; Sold for $3 Each

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 1.—About the time the Tigers drew down their world's series money in 1907, the owners of the club organized a gold mining company at Bisbee, Ariz., and advised the players to invest. The shares cost $3 each. Today word was received that gold had been found in rich quantities and that the shares were worth at least $200 each. Jennings, Donovan, Willett, Mullin, Rossman, Leary, Schaefer, Cobb and Crawford are the winners. Ty Cobb is winner on another little speculation. It was learned today. On his last trip to Gotham he received a tip from a broker friend in Georgia to buy cotton. Ty put up $1,000. It is said he cleared $6,500 on the rise.

ON BRANDON

Regina, Sask., Sept. 30.—C. J. Eckstrom, president of the Western Canada Baseball league, is in Regina. He announces that the delay in calling the meeting of the directors to wind up affairs, and decide the pennant question is occasioned by Brandon's delay in submitting its report. The scores from the wheat city are away behind and as a result the averages cannot be published.

CALGARY--EDMONTON TODAY

Big Rugby Game at Diamond Park. Both Teams Are Evenly Matched

Calgary C. v.

Accompanied by two hundred supporters, who travelled from Calgary by special train, the Y. M. C. A. rugbyists arrived at Strathcona this morning and are quartered at the Cecil and other city hotels. Red and white ribbons are to be seen all over the streets and rugby talk fills the air. For this afternoon the Eskimos, the Gope of Edmonton, and the Calgary Y. M. C. A. meet at Diamond Park in the opening rugby game of the season, and a keen struggle is expected.

Both teams are reported to be much stronger than in previous years, and while the Eskimos out-weigh their opponents by an average of about six pounds per man, it takes more than beef to win rugby games in these days of clever coaching. It is the well-conditioned, speedy team whose players use their brains, that carry away the championship cups, and Coach Delanger has been spending the most of his time in developing open play among his players, and the spectators today should see some nice running and passing. The game will start at 3:15 sharp with Rev. Robt. Pearson and Hal. Barnham as officials. The club earnestly requests that the spectators stay off the field. Last season the crowd encroached on the field of play with the result that one gentleman had his leg broken. An accident like this is liable to happen at any time during the game, if the spectators do not remain off the field. Policemen will be in attendance to see that the field is kept clear. There is ample room in the stands and bleachers to accommodate the crowd and allow everybody to get a good view of the play.

Gates will be opened at 2:30 o'clock and players will take the field for practice at 3:00.

The teams for this afternoon will be:

LAUDER REALLY RETIRES

Billy Lauder has been asked to box Thompson, but Billy refused, as he has about decided to quit the game. With his ranch and dray business, Lauder cannot find time to do much boxing. Besides Billy says he has had his share. Whether or not Billy will keep out of the ring remains to be seen.—Alburtan.

Portage la Prairie Sports Would Like to Spend Few Dollars in Hockey

(Free Press.)
The advent of cold weather naturally leads to the hockey man getting in groups and talking over prospects for the coming winter's play. The amateurs are counted upon to hold full sway in Winnipeg and the west again, and according to reports, so intent are the Victorias in winning out the local championship that several of the members are already training privately so as to be in the best of shape when the first ice appears. But the latest story that is going the rounds is to the effect that professional hockey will reign once more in Manitoba. It was learned on good authority yesterday that several Portage la Prairie sportsmen are tired of the quiet life in the Prairie city in the winter and are already organizing a professional team for this winter. Of course it will be necessary to have more than one team in the province, but the report goes as far as to intimate that a prominent hockey enthusiast of Winnipeg would be in line with an all-star seven if Portage secures a team. Professional hockey did not prove a paying proposition in Manitoba in past years and though it provided some splendid hockey the promoters were forced to give it up and it is just a question if it will again be a money maker.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BASKETBALL

The first half of the games in the public school basketball league has just been completed, the girls from the Alexander Taylor school being the winners. The games have all been fast and strenuous, each team playing excellent basketball and making the result of the second half very uncertain. This half is to be completed next week and the winners will play the deciding game with the champions of the first round on sports Day, Friday, October 7th.

POTTS RETURNS HERE

Jimmy Potts, who fought a fifteen round draw with Maurice Thompson, in Calgary last Wednesday, is on his way back to Edmonton, but will stop off at Carstairs for a few days en route. Jimmy has a bout in Minneapolis this month with Dave Gibbons, so will return to the States. Thompson will remain in Calgary for two weeks and then come up here and give an exhibition. The Battle boy will then return South and meet Young Connors, of Chicago. Connors is about 138 pounds and has been cleaning up all the second raters. Bud Burt, who was in Potts' corner on Wednesday, has returned to Edmonton.

Fred Whitefoot, who saw the Potts-Thompson go, says that Jimmy certainly had the Butte scrapper going in the 13th round. He was floundering around the ring with Potts in close pursuit, and raining in blows, when an upstart from Thompson felt the referee, and the police jumped into the ring. The round lasted only 1 minute and 38 seconds, whereas had it gone the full three minutes, Jimmy might have scored a knock out. It looked very much to the unbiased spectators as if Thompson had hit McLean purposely to save himself. Another match between Potts and Thompson would be a clinker, and there seems no reason why a permit cannot be obtained to stage it in Edmonton. There can be no possible objection to a well contested boxing exhibition between two evenly matched men and if Winnipeg and other large cities are allowed to see boxing why should Edmontonians be debarred.

Guesses know the west is already sufficiently devoid of amusement, without having any of our few pleasures denied us. Boxing contests do not cater to children, and it seems inexplicable why full grown men should be denied a little pleasure by a bunch of narrow-minded reformers. Jimmy Potts' name is synonymous with every thing that is clean and square in sport and there need be no fear of any bout that he is mixed up in, being anything else but on the level.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR EDMONTON

The Labor Day games recently held in our city merit the broad smile of public approbation. Let our children live true to nature!

With all its advantages the modern city which willfully respects to break
its architecture with a generous sprinkling of parks and playgrounds is not a place in which to rear children.
They cannot get close to the heart of nature.

Let the little hands splash in the fountains, the little feet run on the grass. Hurrah for mud pies! If you feel that the world is still so benighted
as to require physical force to settle her disputes—and you may be right—encourage your boys and girls to build mud forts and embankments, to mould mud cannon balls. There are health germs hiding under every handful of sun-kissed earth.

Up to the age of fourteen normal
boys and normal girls should have precisely the same physical training.

Altogether too much is said of vice.
It is held too much before the eyes.
We are given to theorizing about it,
calling undue attention to abnormality,
"But," you say, "we have facts before us."

Turn the children out of doors into God's fresh air, let them race and romp, for to-day they are busy building constitutions for to-morrow. Give them nourishing food. No longer house and isolate them till they mope,
become self-centred and self-conscious. In short, let them enjoy as much of Nature as the city of Edmonton can possibly afford, and they will establish a new set of facts, along normal lines.

Nature takes care of the country
and gives him lots of elbow-room.
But when boys are congregated in large numbers in playgrounds, it is well that they be directed and supervised in order that the principles of fair play, kindness and enterprise be duly inculcated.

We have too little recreation. Older people are included in this. We turn with pride and pleasure to the old time May Pole dances in Merry England. Mothers, fathers and children gathered together on the green.
May poles were put in place by the fathers and grown men. To the generally colored ribbons were secured the young men and maidens, and they danced, and reversing, let the breasts flutter the silken strings.

We cannot live without each other.
Can you conceive of anything more ideal than the May Pole idea—men of vigorous and experience, mothers, youths and maidens, boys, girls, babies
—all enjoying a breathing spell, a time of healthful recreation, a gala
day, in this fashion!

Alas, that mothers and fathers stay home from any place in which their children seek amusement. The fact that a young woman's mother is watching her in pride and hope will in nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of every thousand be a sufficient inspiration to enable her to reach that mother's expectations. It is just as essential that our young men meet men of experience. Even a babe can call from us with its roguish eyes a response of tenderness a spirit of protection without which no individual is well coun-ciled. We do, indeed, need each other!

The West is full of ambition—ambition
in every line of godly enterprise.
Are we becoming mercenary then? Do we respect to provide sufficient breathing spaces for our children? We are growing, rapidly growing! Would we cripple our little ones in health and future activity? A thousand times NO!
Now is the time, while the city is young and plots are readily available,
to secure playgrounds for children.
Mothers and fathers of Edmonton ratepayers—to you we appeal. Give this matter your consideration. Talk it over with your neighbors and agitate, agitate till the cause of Children's Playgrounds is won not only for this city,
but for the entire West.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor Capital
Sir:—

Alberta has been very much to the front in boasting of the superiority of her educational system, and there is much to admire in it, although I must confess for some time I have thought the Government was expending too much of the Public money on higher education than was warranted while they are still taxing the poor homesick for educational purposes from which he receives no benefit. It therefore is much of a surprise to me to find the Department of Education acting in a way which is detrimental to the interests of school districts.

The village of North Edmonton occupies a section of land in the Belmont School District and the number of children in the village increasing the attendance at the existing school house so that it is absolutely necessary to in some way provide for more accommodation. The village authorities were desirous of establishing a district of their own and owing to the leaving of the parties interested themselves in the organization the matter was in abeyance. In July the trustees of the Belmont School District held something must be done to provide more accommodation. Intervened the Department of Education where they saw an official representing the Deputy Minister who informed the trustees
that no action was then in progress with North Edmonton but said neither the village of North Edmonton or the Dept. of Education had any power to alter the area of the School District without the consent of the trustees and that if any proposal came up on the subject of altering the Belmont District the trustees would be consulted. At the same time he recommended an account of certain contingencies that the Belmont District try and arrange for North Edmonton to organize a district of its own. In consideration of this the trustees at once called a rate-payers meeting for the express purpose of discussing the re-organization of the district. At the meeting which was well represented the opinion was unanimously expressed that we should get North Edmonton to organize a district but that we considered the Belmont School District was not large enough to give up more than that portion of it lying due South of the village together of course with the area of the village. The village authorities entertained our prospect, but owing to the absence of the chairman of the council acted with the Department was delayed.

A notice of the ratepayers' meeting was sent to the Department but was never acknowledged.
The next that was heard of the matter was a notice sent by accident in the post office that the Department had sanctioned the forming of a district called the "City Park" district taken from the Belmont School District. On communication with the Department the Trustees were informed that the Minister had the power to make any alteration they might think well, and they intended taking still more from the Belmont District to organize a North Edmonton District; these are the facts of the case.

This district, which the Department is trying to form out of the Belmont
district, borders close to North Edmonton. In itself it has but a very few houses, and it is altogether unnecessary and unsuitable to be formed into a district, in addition it absorbs the area which the Belmont district had agreed to give the North Edmonton district because as it was said at the meeting it was hardly fair to expect children to come past the North Edmonton school to attend the Belmont school.

But besides all this, Mr. Editor, does it commend itself to the dignity of an educational department to ignore the trustees and the ratepayers of the district and try and use an arbitrary power over them. The trustees of the rural school are nearly all farmers. The professional men, the merchants, and even the Government itself is dependent upon them and yet the very paid officials seem to even so out of their way to slight and snub them. Is it any wonder they resent such treatment?

In conclusion I may point out that as far as I can see the "Quintance"
does not give the arbitrary power the Department would wish us to think,
and it appears to me any other district
which has any trouble in this respect
would do well to make a careful study of some before they submit to anything they think prejudicial to their rights. Thanking you for space.

Yours truly,

FRANCIS C. CLARE,
Trustee, Belmont S.D. No. 23.

WORK AT THE BRIDGE

The excavation for the piers of the high level bridge on the Edmonton side of the river is nearly completed and preparations are being made for the beginning of the cement work.
The huge pit at the river side has been sunk to a depth of thirty-two feet.
The vein of coal from which the contractors hope to extract enough for the operations, was found at a depth of eight feet. A foot to 1-1/2 Ojswigite eight feet. As fast as the shale and clay is taken from the pits it is run out on trestle work and dumped into the stream. A fine, hard base has now been reached and will support
the piers.

AT THE THEATRES

PIERRE OF THE PLAINS

Sir Gilbert Parker, whose stories of Canadian life have startled the world,
is the author of "Pierre of the Plains,"
the beautiful story of western life which Edgar Selwyn has dramatized and in which Gerald Nelson, Canada's greatest actor is now starring,
along with Eugene Walter's great Canadian play, "The Wolf." The story deals with a half-breed, Pierre, who, although being a good man at heart, has the reputation of being a sneak and a cheat. He earns his livelihood by his wits as a gambler and is despised by all who come in contact with him, particularly by Jen Cal-braith, a beautiful young girl who is in love with a mounted police officer. "Pierre" loves Jen, but on account of his reputation, never says
so. Jen's brother, Val, gets into trouble with the police and Pierre aids
him to escape from the barracks,
thereby setting himself into trouble.
Jen hears of it and tries to aid Pierre
and by so doing gets her lover, Sgt.
Redding into trouble with his superior officer for not searching more diligently for Pierre. Pierre has one enemy who has sworn to get him and he stays and tries to find him. Pierre tricks him, and in a fight which follows, kills him. Pierre himself is wounded and goes to the home of the priest for aid. The good father at first refuses to shelter him and only after Jen has pleaded for him, does he consent. The police trace him to the priest's house, Sgt. Redding in the lead. By a clever bit of manoeuvring, Jen convinces the police that Pierre has escaped and they start out on what they think is a fresh trail and Pierre is safe. In a very pretty scene between him and Jen, she confesses her love for him and the end is a delightful one all around.

This play will be produced by Harold Nelson company at the Empire Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening. "The Wolf," will be given Thursday.

A SAFE THAT HAS STOOD THE TEST

Safes, good safes, are something that interest all business men. The Morris Safe & Lock Company, who are general agents for "The Halls Safe Company," of Cincinnati, Ohio, are handling a safe of which they are justly proud. Although they did not have an exhibit at the local exhibition,
more value to the man who is interested in safes than any mere exhibit.
They have proofs of the actual worth of the Hall's safe. These proofs come from Nelson, B. C. where one of their safes stood the extreme test
of fire very successfully.

The following letters speak for themselves. They were sent to Mr.
Percy H. Johnson, Esq.,
Morris Safe & Lock Co.,
(General Agents, The Halls Safe
Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.)
Calgary, Alta.

Dear Sir: At the request of your representative Mr. R. F. Stevens, who asked me to write you in regard to the destruction of the Kreyscher Shingle Mill,
and the Kootenay Engineering Works, Ltd., also a number of other houses. The fire was one of the worst and hottest Nelson ever had,
destroying property worth $1,000.
There is no building in Nelson that could burn and be any hotter than they have something which is of interest to the Kootenay Engineering Works, in which stood one of your
No. 345 thin wall double door Hall's Safe. The heat was so intense that thirty yards, lasting about two hours.
The water thrown towards it, with 120 pounds pressure per square inch, turned into steam and floated away on the breeze before reaching the burning flames. The dial was burned off, the hands twisted and the safe was badly warped from the intense heat, but it did the work it was built to do, for when opened by the master of the Imperial Bank, Mr. J. M. Lay,
the contents were in good order,
which could hardly be expected of any safe.

I would gladly recommend the Hall safe as to its fireproof qualities.
Yours respectfully,
D. GUTHRIE,
Chief Nelson Fire Department,
Nelson, B. C.

Percy H. Johnson, Esq.,
Morris Safe & Lock Co.,
(General Agents, The Hall Safe
Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.)

Dear Sir: Kreyscher Shingle Mill fire at Nelson, July 5, 1901.

I am in receipt of your favor dated July 25th, and in consequence I request therein beg to inform you, that I have visited the scene of fire mentioned above and made a thorough examination of the Halls Safe, which came through this fire, with pleasure. I am able to inform you that the safe has apparently suffered no damage whatever. Interiors in perfect condition. Understand contents when removed showed no signs of damage. Am in fact, that this was an exceptionally hot fire, and it must be gratifying to learn that your safe stood the test so well.

GRADING OF STREETS

Commissioners Will Look Over Second street—Work May Start Soon

After a conference with a delegation of property owners and the city commissioners yesterday afternoon, in regard to improvements to the southern end of Second street, it was decided that the commissioners make a personal inspection of the street. In the meantime plans will be prepared embodying the proposals made yesterday. If the suggestions are adopted the work will involve the grading
of Second street as far south as Har-disty, and the erection of a retaining wall, on Victoria avenue, at the corner of Second street.

TO FIX UP THE BANK

The Department of Public Works
at Ottawa, will attend to the gradual collapse of the river bank in the east-end. The Minister of Public Works, William Pugsley, has instructed Engineer Voligny, who is at present in charge of the government work at Prince Albert, to view the bank at Edmonton and report as to means of remedying the evil.

A letter was received by the commissioners yesterday from Mr. Pugsley, saying that on July 16th he had inspected Mr. Malhot, resident engineer at Calgary, to arrange for a conference with Engineer Latourne to discuss methods for repairing the bank. The Minister did not know that his instructions had not been carried out until the commissioners'
letter was received three weeks ago.

TEACHERS AT HOME

The teachers of the public and high schools gave an at home last night in the McKay avenue school at which about 200 were present. The object of the at home was to enable the teachers to meet one another after the summer vacation, and to become acquainted with new members of the staff. Addresses were given by Superintendent McCaig and Rev. Dr. McCreary, the latter referring to the great progress of education in Edmonton, making a comparison between the conditions of the year 1881 and today. Miss Penelope Davies and Mr. Butterworth, of the Edmonton school of music, provided the musical programme. Miss Davies rendering a "Will wiede Lucht," was splendid while a duet by Miss Davies and Mr. Butterworth was well received. The evening closed with dancing, and refreshments.

SOME GENEROSITY, THIS.

Prof. Price was quite amused over the lapse of the Journal yesterday in putting to his credit as chairman of the commission some two hundred thousand dollars for the use of his department. The government also, according to the same ingenious reporter, generously turned over Government House for his use.

"If you is so, gentlemen," said the professor at the session of the commission, "and we cannot doubt it— I'll invite you all down when we are established in historic Riel Hall."

ANOTHER "SEASON" OPENS

A large number of Edmonton men are leaving town today taking their guns with them, for it is October 1st, the opening of the chicken and partridge season. The season ends on October 31st.

DEVELOP POWER AT MINE.

"Electric power will be developed at the mine of the Cardiff Coal company, which has recently been sold to a Manitoba corporation, under the name of the Cardiff Collieries Limited." This was the statement made by Mr. Anderson of O'Grady and Anderson, the brokers who put through the deal. The coal which is being sold at 75 cents per ton can be used more effectively for making electricity and the power thus developed could be sold to the city, though, as Mr. Anderson said they would not put any proposition to the city until they can furnish the power at a reduced cost, they will furnish power for the electricification of the Morrisville branch of the C.N.R.

The present capacity of the mines is 1000 tons per day, which output the new company intend to increase. Among those interested in the company are: Andrew Kelly, Western Canada Flour Mills; J. C. Cameron, of the Rac Portage Lumber Co.; Hon. T. Mayne, Daly, police magistrate, of Winnipeg, and others. The Brunel company are making the financial arrangements for the purchase of the property.

The junior championship was a draw between Arthur Davies and Oliver Lynn while Arthur Bassett won the rifle awarded to the best athlete in the public schools.

REAL CONSERVERS ARE THE DOCTORS

Theodore Roosevelt Expressed That Opinion at the American Public Health Association.

TWO EDMONTON DOCTORS

Were Elected to Advisory Committees of the Association—Dr. Revell and Dr. Whitelaw.

The medical fraternity of the Province of Alberta was represented at the annual convention of the American Public Health Association held in Milwaukee, Wis., from September 23 to 29th, inclusive, by Drs. D. G. Revell, provincial bacteriologist, and T. H. Whitelaw, medical health officer for the city of Edmonton. Dr. Revell has just returned from the convention and gives an interesting account of the discussions on matters pertaining to the public interest.

The most important matter under discussion was the disinfection of the water supply by bleaching powders. It was considered that the process was a rapid and cheap one, and a very efficient means of sterilizing. "Infantile Paralysis" was another important subject under discussion, and is of special interest in view of the marked prevalence of the disease at present, notably in western Ontario. It was generally agreed that the disease was communicable and for what reasons should be isolated. The nature of the malady is very deadly and is accompanied by sudden results. A great deal of investigation is being carried on to trace the source of the disease, and into the methods of treatment. Other subjects of interest which were discussed were: "The proper disposal of sewage and garbage;" "Control of sanitary quality of milk for cities;" "Control of venereal diseases;" "The advisability of creating a United States department of health;" "Disinfection for contagious diseases;" "The progress of federal public health organizations."

A valuable paper on "The importance of public health work," was given by Dr. Hodgins, of Ottawa, medical advisor to the Canadian Conservation Commission.

On September 27th the convention was addressed by Theodore Roosevelt, who professed great interest in the work of the association. The previous day he had addressed the conservation congress at St. Paul, but he informed the medical men that they composed the real conservation congress since they were engaged in the conservation of the public health, which was by far the most valuable asset of any country.

Dr. Revell played an important part on the passing of a resolution approving the campaign of the Ladies' Home Journal, to promote the proper instruction of the young in regard to the biology of reproduction.

Dr. Revell was elected a member of the advisory council to the laboratory section, while Dr. Whitelaw was elected a member of the advisory council of the general association.

SURPLUS OF $5000
That is What the Electric Light Department Will Show This Year.

The electric light department will probably have a surplus of about $5,000 this year. During the eleven months the department has been able to wipe out the deficit of $16,000 of last year and accumulate a surplus which obviously is a splendid performance. Of course last year conditions were such to render a surplus impossible.

The cost of production of power was extremely high and besides there was no energy disposed of during the day time.

LIBERALISM AND LIBERTY ARE ONE

So Said Henry Vivian to Edmonton's Young Liberal Club Last Night.

"Humanity is indebted for all that is really worth having, to the progress of Liberalism, and its application to the problems of life." These were the words used by Henry Vivian M. P., for Birkenhead, in the British House of Commons, before a gathering of the members of the Young Men's Liberal Club in the club rooms Friday evening.

Liberalism, he said, was the application to the needs of every day life of the law of progress. Its purpose in the main might be defined as the function of gradually creating the atmosphere in which the individual unit could reach the highest possible point of development.

Governments, he said, that had originated during a struggle for liberty, often exhibited forms detrimental to liberty. This was the case with the United States, and now liberty was so abused as to practically strangle the freedom and welfare of the masses. And yet the struggle with monopolies was the same struggle that our forefathers had fought out with the old English kings.

He believed Roosevelt whom, despite his faults, he greatly admired, realized this. Unless the U. S. A. could solve their problem the future looked dark indeed.

Canada would have the same struggle. The wealth, the accumulation of which liberty had made possible, would threaten liberty.

CAR OF MOOSE AND ELK

HOW MUCH SHOULD EDMONTON GIVE TO GET A GAS PLANT HERE

A Question That Faces Edmonton at Present—Some of the Advantages That the Citizens Would Derive From the Establishment of Such a Plant in This City

A concern styled "The International Heating and Lighting Company," with headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio, applied some time ago to the city of Edmonton for a franchise to establish and operate a gas plant. That they won't get what is commonly considered a "franchise," a word which City Commissioner A. V. Bouillon characterizes as synonymous with "graft" and "rake-off," is certain. That they may be permitted to establish a plant in the city and operate, practically in conjunction with the city, on a sort of co-operative basis, is another matter, but the latter all depends on the willingness of the company to subscribe to the conditions laid down by the city.

But is a public gas supply a necessity in the city of Edmonton? It is not a necessity, but that does not mean that it has to be a necessity to be desirable. Gas is found to be very convenient, but that is the extent of its usefulness. Just on that account, however, a large number of people favor gas, even preferring it in some instances to electricity. There are few cities of average size without a supply is evidence enough of its popularity.

Up to a short time ago gas was used not only in domestic circles, but also to a considerable extent in industrial plants, but of recent times in the manufacturing arena it has been displaced to a considerable extent by oil, which commodity is making rapid strides in the public favor. Therefore, today gas is used almost wholly by the housewife, and to her the convenience is obvious.

Gas has been characterized as dangerous. Certainly it is not a thing to be handled by children, but when the apparatus is properly installed, and properly used, it is perfectly safe. The country people of today are not as green as they used to be and when the housewife hires a "kitchen mechanic" fresh from the pasture, it does not follow that she will be ignorant enough to blow out the gas when retiring at night, which remarkably action has been attributed to a New England "Reuben."

Gas can be used for heating, lighting and cooking, but it is assumed that in the first case, the house is heated by other means also. A gas grate fire is very homelike, when not pitted against the old-fashioned English grate with a yule log, which gladdens the heart of a country squarer.

For lighting purposes it is cheaper than electricity, and it throws off brilliant rays. But what comes to cooking there is where its star of preference shines as brightly as the gas flame itself. When you have a gas stove as one of your kitchen accessories you need not get up at six in the morning with the thermometer at twenty below, creep downstairs, and light a wood fire, and creep back again, into bed with cold shudders darting up and down your spine. You stay right in bed until half-past seven, and then get up and put a decent amount of clothing on yourself, walk down stairs with an independent air, turn the gas jet, and apply the match. Then within a very short time you will be able to eat beefsteak an onions to your heart's content. By the aid of the gas stove meals can be prepared in a very short time.

If the International Heating and Lighting Company agrees to the conditions drawn up in a letter to the company by the city commissioners, published in connection with the article, then the realization of the convenience of a gas supply can be expected.

But whether the company will acquiesce is a matter for the future. It is quite possible that the Cleveland company is just as desirous of doing the square thing as the city of Ed-

Loneliness; the Homesteader's Foe

At Least It is If He is a Bachelor and Does His Homesteading All Alone—Some Curious Stories of the Results of Being Lonely—Sometimes it Brings on Temporary Melancholia

There are several drawbacks to homesteading, so homesteaders say, and the chief of them is loneliness, that is of course, if the settler is single and has no one helping him to cultivate his acres.

In the summer time things do not go so badly, for he has so much to do, the improvements on his farm, the cultivating of the soil, the replenishing of his woodpile for the winter, and numerous other occupations so that the time is taken up with hard work and the settler has not time to think of being lonely except in the evenings, and even then he is too tired to do anything more than to roll into his blankets and fall fast asleep.

But in the long winter things are different. Supposing that he has homesteaded fifty miles from the nearest neighbor, which is often the case, how often would he see them? Once a month perhaps, or even less. And supposing that his farm is not on any beaten trail, his chances of seeing a passing stranger are few and far between. During the long winter days he tends to his live stock, which does not take him very long, and then sits by his own fireside, and simply holds down his land according to the rules laid down by the government.

In the evening he draws his chair up to the stove, and while the wind is whistling through the cracks in the door, and the snow is piling high upon each upon the ground outside, he reads and re-reads the small collection of magazines and books that he has read over and over again. Naturally he becomes tired of reading the same things, and his mind wanders. He begins to think. He keeps on thinking. Suddenly for no apparent reason he starts up and looks over his shoulder. That is the beginning of it, and the rest follows soon. Then the mounted police make a discovery and there is a new inmate for Bram-few cases of insanity brought into the mounted police department at Edmonton. They were mostly foreigners. Somehow it seems to affect the immigrants from Italy and Russia a good deal more than the Anglo-Saxons. They are of a more excitable temperament, and the enforced exile from their native land allows the loneliness to work on their feelings more than those of more stolid nations.

The next thing to do is to turn to the remedy for this trouble. Is there a remedy? The only apparent thing to do is to get married, but there are often a good many reasons why a homesteader cannot get married. Perhaps he cannot afford to keep a wife. Perhaps he cannot find one. The question of the dearth of women in the west is one which has been discussed freely by everyone, but there have been very few who have tried to cope with the situation. There was a suggestion made a little while ago that the government should run a matrimonial bureau, establishing homes in the west where girls from the east, who had no place there, and who wished to get married, could come to, and where the men could go and "look 'em over." There is no doubt that this sounds wholesome and erudite and the author of the idea was ridiculed in the papers a good deal, but it shows an amount of common sense. The men and the women, both wanting to get married, must be brought together somehow, better that way than not at all. Once a man has a wife and children he has something to work for, something to spur him on to further efforts, and his heart is in his work. The sooner the women come west the better for the homesteader, and the better for Canada and her citizens. Till then the trouble of loneliness will remain with the home seeker. He will continue to read his magazines over and over again till he knows them by heart, and then to throw them aside with a sigh and begin to think of the days when he was back east on the old farm with Mother and Dad, and the kids, until he is thoroughly unhappy and has a feeling that life is not worth the price of living. People say that the greatest loneliness is that of the solitary person alone in a large city. They never did any homesteading. Did anyone ever go crazy from loneliness in a city. Why if there is no one else to talk to, there is always the ice man when he comes round, the waiter in the restaurant, the thousand and one people that one comes in contact with. But on a homestead. Perhaps fifty miles to drive to the nearest neighbor or store.

In the far north insanity from loneliness is common, all too common, as the records of the Royal North West Mounted Police show. The kind of insanity that they have to contend with is shown in the following story: A few days before Christmas some of the Indians from the north were going into Fort Chipewyan. A man who was living by himself in the wilds saw them passing and followed them without waiting to provide himself with blankets or provisions. The Indians saw his predicament and were kindly enough to lend him blankets and look after him till they reached the Fort. Once at the Fort the man did not seem to know what to do. He was there without food or bedding or money to buy things with. Again a friendly trader took pity on him and told him that he might stay with him and he was to go back to his camp. Three days later the trader sent over to the police asking them to come and have a look at the man as he was acting in a strange manner. The police went over to have a look but found he was not there. They then went in search of him and discovered that he was wandering about by the side of the lake. They saw at a glance that the man was insane and unfit to be at large and took him to the guard room.

For a few days the man was kept by the police and given food and shelter and it was thought that with proper nourishment and rest he would come to his proper senses. After four days, however, he took a turn for the worse and became a raving lunatic, refusing to take food or nourishment of any kind.

The police then started for Fort Saskatchewan with the lunatic, realizing that he needed proper medical attention. Little is told in the police records about the trip except that they arrived safely and that only one man accompanied the lunatic. Eighteen days on the trail with a lunatic for company in the barren wilds would be a good deal more than many a man could stand.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

HOW CONNIE FOOLED OLD ANSON

Worked Third Strike Trick When Batter Wasn't Watching--Some Cute Stuff

They tell a lot of good stories about stuff Connie Mack pulled off when he used to catch behind the bat and talked opponents into going out. Mack was with Pittsburgh and Gumbert was pitching. Chicago was only one run needed to tie and with two out, had the bases filled and Anson up. The old man was the terror of all pitchers in that day, and never handled harder on a ball than when a hit meant runs.

But Anson was a perfect judge of a ball, and never would aim at lead ones. The ball at which he swung had to cut the plate. On this occasion Gumbert was a trifle wild, and the first two balls were wide. The third cut the plate and Anson let go. The next was another strike, but still the old man waited. He could hit just as well with two strikes as none, and anyway a base on balls would tie the score.

It was a critical situation, for if Gumbert put the next ball over it was a cinch that the old man would land on it hard, and perhaps break up the game. The catcher of that day would have waited like a sheep and let the pitcher work out his own salvation, but the backstops of that day were resourceful.

Mack thought it was up to him, so he ran down to Gumbert, and gave him the injunction to pitch the next ball just a little wider and start the pitcher work in position to pitch, waiting for a signal from Mack.

Gumbert curved one about eight inches outside the plate, and Anson never moved to hit at it. "Good strike, Ad!" yelled Connie, as he grabbed off his mask and started for the bench, as though the side were out.

"Strike!" shouted Anson, wheeling half around to the umpire to protest. "I didn't say so," remarked the arbitrator. "Three balls."

Before Anson could turn back to position Mack gave the sign to Gumbert. Ad sent the ball straight over the heart. Nothing in Mack's attitude told that he was expecting the pitch. He didn't have his mask on, he wasn't in position to catch, for he had been standing three feet away from the plate to distract Anson's attention.

Anson never got his bat off his shoulder.

"Three strikes," yelled the umpire, Connie just managed to bat the ball down and touch the home plate, thus retiring the man who was on third.

Anson kicked and stormed for 20 minutes, but there was no reversing the decision, for he had never been out of the box, time wasn't called and Gumbert had been in a legal position to pitch when the ball was delivered.

INTERESTING TIT-BITS OF THE OLD COUNTRY SPORTS

Henry Barling, aged 110 years, kicked off the ball at a football game in New Zealand not long ago--it can be believed The British Amateur.

Meyer Stringer, featherweight champion boxer of Scotland, met Jim Long, of Leeds, at the Olympia club, Leeds, recently. Stringer gave a fine exhibition of two-handed fighting, and easily outpointed his opponent. The fight was scheduled for fifteen rounds, but Long wisely retired in the tenth round.

Glasgow Rangers are determined to stamp out the use of bad language at their home games. The other Saturday 500 persons entering the grounds was handed a card appealing to the spectators to abstain from the use of obscene and improper language. The effort on the part of the Rangers does not come any too soon, and other clubs would do well to follow suit. It is a well-known fact that much foul language is used at football games in the old country, and no doubt keeps many respectable persons from attending the matches.

Southern Wales is a hotbed of rugby football and there are no better exponents of the game in the British Isles than the Welshmen. Here at least, is one part of the United Kingdom where where association football has played itself to the more strenuous game. Even in a friendly encounter--where there is nothing at stake outside the satisfaction of winning--a crowd of ten thousand is not an uncommon occurrence. There is no more feared team in the Principality than Swansea, and when they meet most fixtures there is usually an awful slaughter, figuratively speaking, with the Swansea boys doing the slaughtering.

Steve Bloomer, at one time the idol of all England as an inside right, is out of a job. This little man, who was the terror of all goalkeepers in his day seems to be "going back." Still, he should have a lot of good football in him yet.

Another Indian wrestler, Isam Busy by name, is making a sensation in London. Recently he clashed with John Lenn, of Switzerland, but the latter had no chance with his dusky antagonist, who, by the way, is a brother of the famous Gama.

Frank Beaupre, the amateur champion swimmer of Australia, and holder of many world's records, accomplished another fine performance in Hull when he swam 500 yards in 6 min. 19.25 secs. He appeared later in the week at the annual gala of the Glasgow Amateurs, and created a new Scottish record over 300 yards, in 4 min. 23.35 secs. The previous best being 3 min. 53.25 secs, by Hays.

Round one of the Scottish Qualifying cup is over, and two of the most notable results were the failure of Celtic Athletic (the holders) to dispose of Boathouse for the first group, and the defeat of Raith Rovers (first league club) by Darnley Athletic. This competition is merely a preliminary round to the competition proper, the Scottish cup. Nearly one hundred clubs this season will take part in the minor events, and only those of the pipkins reaching the fourth round can compete with the "big fellows." Excitement is always intense in the provinces during the first three or four rounds of the competition. It would be no easy matter to pick the winner, and so much depends on the ball. To win the Qualifying cup is the greatest honor a country club can hope to achieve.

through an open window, and it was going some. Knebe got a chair, lay across the pants and Pat Moran received a cake of soap on the right ear.

"And Laderns played first for Philadelphia that afternoon. "Monsieur, down in Peoria, at a jolly theatre, a little sourette was dragging things from a twin skin case. She fished up a red flame, under-shirt, a pair of spiked shoes, some muddy, a pair of uniform pants, rather worn from sliding, and a perfectly good first baseman's glove.

"Along about 9:45, Bransfield received a telegram. It read, 'You see a horrid louse, Phebe, and say clothes immediately. Yours have gone by express. Coll. 53. Marie H.' "Say, that's Bransfield, over there near the bench. Want some fun? Well, if you are a good runner, ask him if he wants to be a sourette."

CATCHER CLARKE HAS NEW IDEA TO HOLD ONTO HIS JOB.

I'm getting the biggest chain padlock and key they can make me," said Tom Clarke, the Cincinnati catcher. "My locker at the park will be double-locked and guarded, believe me. Why so? Because there will be a big bunch of raw recruits on the team in the immediate future, and if I don't chain up my locker they'll get my uniform, glove, shoes, maybe my job. I don't see any catchers coming at that. The woods are full of young pitchers these days, but catchers don't seem to grow any more. Every youngster coming up thinks he's rather be a pitcher, and so they try to throw gloves instead of putting on the big glove. My advice to the young one is: Become a catcher. Plenty of good jobs waiting and nobody to take them."

Keep your eye on Montreal this year. They will run one or two. They have a back line and an experienced wing line. Look as good as the team of 1909. Reports from Hamilton are to the effect Dutch Barton will not be on the gridiron this year. Tigers couldn't replace him.

CLASH FOR WORLD'S BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Chicago Expert Discusses the Respective Positions on the Cubs and Athletics--Likes Chicago's Pitching Staff and Outfield

(Harold D. Johnston, Baseball Expert in Chicago Record-Herald)

Cubs versus Athletics for the world's baseball honors! That's the morsel to be laded out for fandom during the latter days of October unless some dire calamity befalls F. Leroy Chance and Company. It's all over but the shouting as regards the American League race with Mack's seasoned youngsters galloping headlong on the high speed. Practically the same situation prevails in the National, despite the crippled condition of the great Cub machine, and fans whether partial or impartial around both circuits have conceded the palm to the west side aggregation.

Interest in the coming clash already has stirred the roving populace of every city of major, minor or trolley league calibre. Speculation over the outcome of the Cubs-Athletics struggle is running at fever heat, the majority of the critics predicting Chicago as the haunting spectre of the world's pennant. Whatever the outcome the two great teams, together with the most formidable twirling forces ever known in the national pastime.

Frank Chance, typical exponent of the playing manager, will be one first, unless the aforementioned dire calamity works a change in the color scheme. And, for the most part, the P.L. is a master hand at driving his hurlers. Ask any umpire who has officiated on the bases when some poor, unhappy Cub flinger has experienced a bad spell. On the other hand Connie Mack (real name Corneilus McGillicuddy) is a bench leader of the highest rank, crafty, quick to note a player's shortcomings and a thorough practitioner of inside ball.

A seven-game series is no criterion of the real strength of any team. And chances are neither side will use more than three pitchers in the big show. Veteran batting stars in the National League claim "Three-fingered" Brown isn't the same demon he was two seasons ago. Orval Overall at present is hors de combat and may miss the big series. Leonard (Knee) Cole, the young phenom uncovered by Chance last season, is almost sure of a steady job in the championship.

Then there's Jack Piester, one of the greatest left-handers in the game, and southpaws, by the way, usually effective against the "M's." usual reserve flingers the Cubs boast of Foxen, Aguirre, Ritchie and Mack will offer his three mainstays, Chief Bender, Eddie Plank and Jack Corbitt, all seasoned veterans of hundreds of conflicts.

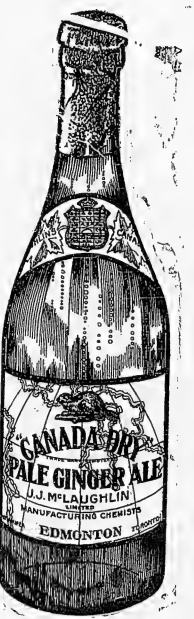

Of the Philadelphia staff Plank probably has shown the poorest form this season, while his stablemates, including "Cy" Morgan, have gone at breakneck speed. It looks like a nip and tuck affair, this coming test of pitching strength.

Chicago will have the advantage in the catching department with Kline and Archer, two of the really greats of the age, as against the Livingston of the Athletics. Veterans will play first hand on both sides. Chance, king of them all for the Cubs, and Davis, a master hand, for the easterners. At second two of the brainiest exponents of inside ball now in service will be seen.

For years Evers has been hailed monarch of all that surveyed around that section of the field, but the crafty little Trojan will encounter a sturdy opponent in Collins, who practically commands the Athletic forces. Critics throughout the land have named Tinker the superior of all other shortstops and Joe with his greater experience, should overshadow the erstwhile Crosby prodigy. With Mack's troupe, Steinbach and Baker--the first not wayward--or--tried and found and--in a thousand combats, and--a hustling youngster for a slugging batt, will strive for supremacy.

In the outfield it looks like first money for the Cubs. Hofman, Schulte and Sheekard against Lord, Oldring and Murphy, assures the fans of some spectacular fielding and lots of hard hitting but the West Side garden stuff bumps up ace high. As regards utility agent Chance has all the better of the argument, having fortified the Cubs with a valuable corps of assistants in Beaumont, Zimmerman and Kane.

HOW MUCH SHOULD

Edmonton, as in a letter received from them by the commissioners last week they expressed their willingness to observe certain of the city's conditions, in respect to rates, standard of quality of service, extent of plant and system, the restoration of streets, and the provisions as to the city's right to purchase the plant after an expiration of a term of years.

But from the tone of their letter it can be assumed that the company is desirous of obtaining a long franchise. They claimed that it would take from five to ten years before they could expect a margin on their investment, and for that reason would require liberal conditions as to price and the life of the franchise. They suggested that the city guarantee the company's securities or else guarantee a fixed income in the event of the adoption of the latter suggestion they would be willing to submit more conservative terms.

In the meantime the International Lighting and Heating Company must deposit $100,000 with the city as evidence of their good faith before negotiations can take any definite form. If the International Lighting and Heating Company establishes a plant in Edmonton under the agreement which the city is prepared to make, it could hardly be said that the company was operating under franchise. They would merely be agents of the city, supplying gas to the public under the supervision of civic authorities, who would have full control over them. In fact, Commissioner Bonillon does not want the word "franchise" applied in this case at all. A franchise, according to his definition, is an antiquated bargain in which a city not only deems away the rights of its citizens, but in which it most cases in the same agreement the franchisee is favored to the detriment of the ratepayers.

A franchise should not be granted that would in any way be a disadvantage to any citizen. Time has proved the fallacy of granting franchises indiscriminately as has been done right and left in cities across the border, and even in some communities in Canada, with such a recklessness, which should have the officials responsible open for prosecution for criminal negligence. In the majority of cases where public privileges have been showered on private capital, it has either been the result of gross ignorance or robbery.

Commissioner Bonillon believes that the conditions ascribed in the letter accompanying this article, will if accepted by the company, be sufficient in severity, to prevent any transgression of the rights of the public. He is willing to make a fair, square and above board bargain, but he will not leave any opening in the agreement, which would give the company a chance for trickery or the juggling of legal phraseology. He believes that the bargain as outlined in the letter is square enough to ensure a reasonable return for any money the company would invest in the venture. Commissioner Bonillon was emphatic enough to state that "any person who said he could not come to the city and invest, and at the same time ensure a reasonable return for the money, under the agreement he is willing to make, is a liar—that's what he is." That is plain talk.

Edmonton is in such a position that she can dictate terms. If the company seeking rights does not subscribe to them, well, then, they can go on their way, for there is nothing to prevent Edmonton from establishing its own gas plant. Edmonton today is the proprietor of its own street railway, has its own power plant, and telephone system and can run them to suit itself. And she can establish her own gas plant and run it just as well. It is evident, too, that if negotiations with the Cleveland concern should come to naught, that the city will consider the advisability of such an action. It is to be seen, however, if under the system of municipal ownership, a gas plant could be established in Edmonton at the present time and produce a reasonable return for expenditure.

At any rate the way of the franchise seeker in Edmonton is hard, and how hard it really is can be gathered from a perusal of the following conditions under which the International Lighting and Heating Company may be permitted to establish and operate a gas plant here.

The International Lighting and Heating Company,

Guardian Trust Building,

Cleveland, O.

Dear Sirs:

We acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 25th ultimo in which, replying to ours of the 13th ultimo, you say you desire to meet the views of our council as far as possible and that we will submit to you a form of agreement which you can accept you would be pleased to make the deposit mentioned. The order of the council was to the effect that as soon as your company would make a cash deposit of $100,000 it would take up negotiations with you and if a satisfactory agreement is not arrived at this money would be refunded; therefore it would appear that it is for you to make the deposit first, after which the council would doubtless instruct us to negotiate with you with a view to an agreement; however, to give you an idea as to the nature of the agreement that would be required we submit the following for your consideration.

(a) To start with, we desire to make it clear that we want to induce investment of capital in our community whenever this can be accomplished to the actual advantage of the community and of the investor, and we are prepared to enter into negotiations with you and to co-operate in every way with a view to the city becoming a party to a square deal agreement for the public supply of gas.

(b) We would not, however, consider any proposition in which the city would not retain control of the operations of a company rendering public service under franchise and the agreement with you would have to provide for the city's control of your financial operations; that is to say, satisfactory account would have to be rendered of the capital invested and of the stock and bond issues.

(c) The city would have to be effectively safeguarded against any issue of water stock; that is to say, the people of this community must be protected against paying dividends upon any capital but that actually and effectively invested in the local enterprise and further we must safeguard the community against paying salaries to non-producers under guise of payments for services rendered; our public service arrangements must be on a net and efficient basis with organizations wholly active.

(d) We would be agreeable only to such rates for the commodity at any time during the life of the franchise as would give a reasonable return on the actual investment and the agreement would have to provide for revision of rates according to the market. We would thus propose to fix rates to start with to give what would be agreed upon and approved by our council as a reasonable earning for the money actually invested and by statements furnished by the company and verification by examination of its books by the city the operations of the company would be checked and when the earnings would exceed what would be mutually agreed upon as a reasonable return upon the actual investment the city would share in the profits over and above such reasonable return and again, when the earnings would exceed a certain predetermined percentage they would have to be reduced so as to keep the earnings within the prescribed limit and in this way give the people who pay the bills first a common share in the excess and above that a reduction in rates.

(e) The agreement would have to prescribe a standard of quality for the commodity and for suitable penalties in favor of the city whenever it would be found under standard upon test such as an equitable percentage of discount to apply for the time being or until the quality is again raised to the standard of efficiency.

(f) The city would reserve the right to order extensions of the distributing system also, should expansion of the plant within a reasonable time from any notice, also to require betterments from time to time to keep up with the growth of the city, such step of course would be taken upon a showing being made the action is necessary for the welfare and comfort of the community.

(g) The agreement would have to contain adequate provisions for the restoration of streets, pavements and other public utility interfered with by any construction of the guarantee and also provisions to save the city harmless from damages which the company might cause by its operations or consequent derelicts.

(h) The right would have to be reserved to the city to purchase the plant after a term of years with the understanding clearly expressed that the purchase price would be the actual value of the plant without any allowance for franchise rights.

2. Summing up we beg to state that if you are prepared to enter into an enterprise in which reasonable returns would be assured but without chance for the company to accumulate earnings or pay excessive dividends at the expense of the community and if you are willing to operate under an agreement in which our citizens would be protected against oppression, we believe that we could enter into an understanding; in other words, we are willing to enter into a square deal but we do not propose to grant public privileges without recourse or without adequate provisions to conserve the public interest.

Respectfully,
THE CITY COMMISSIONERS.

THE 'DREAM FROCK' IS A NEW CREATION

Was Introduced at the Chicago Dressmakers Club This Week
—A Sensation—

IT IS SIMPLY "A DREAM"

Made of Airy Material but it's Quite a Trick to Sit Down in One

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Enters the "dream frock."

It walked into the annual convention of the Chicago Dressmakers' club at the Palmer house yesterday and drove everything before it, not excepting the hobbles, and the bolsters and the stovetop pattern.

The "dream frock" is a dream.

It is as full of peculiarities as "the heathen-Chinese." A "dream frock" is as hard to recognize as a jellyfish or a chameleon. When you don't see it, it's probably there. Here's a young woman walking down State street. Horrors! Started away from her boudoir before she was ready? No! Everything is as it should be.

The properly constructed "dream frock" is as thin as it can be and still stay on. Then it gives the dressmaker an opportunity for high prices and new designs for many things that didn't see the light from Puritan days until a few weeks ago.

Creates Foggy Disposition

It is cut after the bolster-slip idea, but has the same relation to the remainder of her clothes as a filmy veil has to her face. It softens things and produces a foggy, hazy, don't-know-whether-it-is-or-isn't expression.

Most of the "dream frocks" may be rolled up and tucked away in an ordinary thimble, but they cost like sin. At the theatrical matinee to be con-

The hard part of it is to make the knees bend quickly at just the right moment.

Call the Small Brother

If difficulty is experienced at the outset a small brother will prove of assistance. The boy should be stationed under the chair armed with a broom stick of a piece of a barrel. After you have carefully drawn a head on the chair with proper allowance for wind and gravity, signal to the boy when he must strike you sharply on the back of the knees. You'll then go into the chair at the proper will and the bolter slip is guaranteed another day's life.

At the night session of the convention, Fred Krauss illustrated the achievements of the past year among the dyers and promised scores of new shades for the coming year.

Miss Mullen, with living models, illustrated new designs and modifications of the hobble skirt and the "dream frock."

The painting of lace will have the attention of the dressmakers at the morning session today and tonight Mrs. Lemar Middleton, originator of the outside chemise, will discourse on Paris frocks.

Don't Wake Baby

Let your little baby sleep. It is the only way in which the little thing will grow. Don't disturb him, and remember when Mother Nature decides that he has had sufficient rest, she will awaken him.

Feeding and sleeping are the two most important duties of infant life, but unfortunately mothers and nurses often most unreasonably interfere with a baby's desire to perform the latter. They have the idea that sleeping in the open air is harmful, and therefore, when they take baby out in his perambulator, they keep on rattling him whenever he falls into a fitful sleep.

ture some inquiries as to his whereabouts. They did so and came to the conclusion that he had been drowned and said so to the police, reporting that he had been acting strangely for some time but that they did not think that he would commit any rash act.

The search went on and at last they found him—lying on his face on the floor of a little cabin. The door was open and beside him was a rifle and notes and letters addressed to different people. In the letters he stated that he was going to commit suicide and no doubt he did so while he was insane.

These cases are many, but they do not always reach the ears of the public. They happen in far away places, where news seldom filters to the outer world, or when it does, it is in the report of a police officer, leaving the real story of pain, hardship and endurance to be read between the lines.

her eyes held Hugh's — "you cannot doubt it, can you?"

Hugh's tongue wet his parched lips. A tremor ran through him. He did not answer.

Jessica started to her feet. Self-possession was falling from her. She was fighting to seize the vital knowledge that evaded her. She held out her hand. In the palm lay a small emblem of gold.

"By this cross," she cried with desperate earnestness. "I ask you for the truth. It is his life or death—Hugh's life or death! He did not kill Dr. Moreau. Who did?"

Hugh had shrunk back on the couch, his face ghastly. "I know nothing—nothing!" he stammered. "Do not ask me!"

The bishop had risen in alarm. He thought her hysterical. "Quietest Jessica!" he exclaimed. He threw his arm about her and led her from the couch. "You don't know what you are saying. You are beside yourself!"

He forced her into the drawing room and made her sit down. She was tense and quivering. The cross fell from her hand, and he stooped and picked it up. "Try to calm yourself," he said, "to think of other things for a few moments. This little cross—how would you come to have it? I gave it to Sanderson last May to commemorate his ordination. He twisted it open. 'See, here is the date, May 28. That was the day I gave it to him.'"

She gave a quick gasp, and the last vestige of color faded from her cheek. She looked at him in a stricken way. "Last May?" she said faintly. Harry Sanderson had been in Aniston, then, on the very Dr. Moreau had been murdered. Her house of cards fell. She leaned her head back against the cushion and closed her eyes.

Presently she felt a cold glass touch her lips. "Here is some water," the bishop's voice said. "You are better, are you not? Poor child! You have

Standard Rifles

The new Standard Automatic make of Rifles has revolutionized the rifle manufacturing. The gas operating automatically loads instantaneously—will shoot 5 and 6 shots a second—with lightning-like velocity—makes almost no recoil.

Winchester Rifles

Model 1910, Self Loading Rifles, is a fine shot, hammerless, take-down of .401 calibre. It shoots a heavier bullet and hits a harder blow than any other recoil operated rifle made. Also such familiar Winchester Repeating Rifles as 30 U.S. 30-39, 25, 35, 44-30.

Savage Rifles

Model 303 in solid frames, take-down and featherweight. Then there are accessories such as Hunting Clothing, Gun Cases, Hunting Knives, and the little things that go to make a complete Hunters Outfit.

deducted tomorrow afternoon one will be exhibited which cost $350. It is to be worn by Miss Daisy Le Hay, an English actress, who is engaged at a Chicago theatre.

Not on account of this gown, but for a far more important reason, Miss Le Hay has been invited to appear before the dressmakers.

She knows how to sit down? Why, lots of women know how to—

Something Liable to "Bust"

No! That's just it! With the development of the stove-pipe skirt, sitting down becomes the most serious proposition for the fashionably dressed woman. You can't do as you would in ordinary skirts. "Things would bust quicker than tea." You must get into a chair without subjecting any portion of the tube skirt to extra strain. Miss Le Hay has learned the trick. Dressmakers say she must have practised for hours.

She backs up to a chair and then sits.

"I just fall from the knees," she explains.

Miss Le Hay backs up to a chair with a sort of sideways, crawfish motion, puts one foot out behind to be sure the chair is there—this is a precaution which must never be overlooked—and then simply falls until she lands on the cane bottom.

the nap. "This behavior of theirs is very trying to baby's temper, and often results in quite unnecessary crying."

Baby wants to sleep, and he would be all the better for so doing; and the only thing that should be seen to is that he is laid in a comfortable position and covered with a rug or shawl to prevent any chance of a chill. If this precaution be taken, he may enjoy a refreshing sleep, more refreshing perhaps than in the house, where the air breathed might possibly be close and stuffy.

LONELINESS

That this kind of lunacy is only temporary is shown by the following incident that happened to a corporal of the Mounted Police, who while returning from a mission picked up a man evidently a foreigner who had not been in his right mind. He turned out to be an Italian, who after he had been well fed and clothed got quite well again. Shortly afterwards he disappeared and the police have been unable to trace him since.

A rather gruesome incident happened in Dawson City some time when the friends of a man who had been missing for some time thought that it had gone long enough to insti-ture some inquiries as to his whereabouts. They did so and came to the conclusion that he had been drowned and said so to the police, reporting that he had been acting strangely for some time but that they did not think that he would commit any rash act.

The search went on and at last they found him—lying on his face on the floor of a little cabin. The door was open and beside him was a rifle and notes and letters addressed to different people. In the letters he stated that he was going to commit suicide and no doubt he did so while he was insane.

Chapter 30

It stood face to face with Harry Sanderson—that had been Jessica's sole thought. The news that the bishop, with the man she suspected, was speeding toward her—to pass the very town wherein Hugh stood for his life—seemed a prearrangement of eternal justice. When the telegram reached her she had already gone by Twin Peaks. To proceed could be passing the coming train. At a farther station, however, she was able to take a night train back, arriving again at Twin Peaks in the gray dawn of the next morning.

When the train for which she waited came in, the carriages came at its end, she did not wait for the bishop to find her on the platform, but stepped aboard and made her way slowly back. It started again as she threaded the last platform, to find the bishop on its rear platform peering out anxiously at the receding station.

He took both her hands and drew her into the empty drawing room. He was startled at her pallor. "I know," he said pitifully. "I have heard."

She stilled. "Hugh Aniston knew?"
